

project.org

TEACHER LESSON PLAN

Whose Hands Held This?

Grades 1–2 · Hands of History · Coins and the people who held them

THE 30 MINUTES

4 min	10 min	12 min	4 min
HOOK	STORY TIME	ACTIVITY	PRAYER

LEARNING OBJECTIVE

What children will understand

Children will learn that the coins in the exhibition were really used, two thousand years ago, by people in the land where Jesus lived. They will meet four of those people, match each coin to the hands that held it, and hear how two of the coins belong to stories in the Gospels: the widow who gave everything, and the census that brought Mary and Joseph to Bethlehem.

STANDARDS AND THEMES

- Scripture — Mark 12:41–44; Luke 2:1–7; Matthew 2:13–15
- Catechism — CCC 2544: the poor widow who gave all she had to live on
- Social Studies — people long ago: work, home, market and worship
- Virtue — generosity: giving what truly costs us something

MATERIALS NEEDED

- Page 3 of this plan, projected or printed: the four people and their coins
- A few coins from a pocket or purse
- Four signs for the corners of the room: Widow, Merchant, Mother, Priest
- Differentiated handouts, one per child; crayons

HOOK · 4 MINUTES

Who held this before you?

Pass a coin from your pocket around the circle. "Before this coin came to me, whose hands held it? A shopkeeper? A bus driver? Someone's grandma?" Let children guess. Then: "Some coins are very, very old. Today we will meet people who held coins two thousand years ago, in the land where Jesus lived."

STORY TIME · 10 MINUTES

Four people, four coins

Show page 3. Point to each person and ask "Who do you think this is? What is in their hands?" Then read their story from the card beneath.

ACTIVITY · 12 MINUTES

Find the hands

Put a sign in each corner. Show one coin at a time from page 3 and say its clue ("the smallest coin of all"). Children walk to the person who held it. In each corner, invite one or two children to step into the story and speak as that person: "I am the widow. I am giving my two little coins to God." Then children choose a handout. All three levels match the same four coins to the same four people.

GREEN LEVEL
MORE SUPPORT

Draw a line from each coin to the person who held it, using picture clues. Circle how many coins the widow gave, and draw a gift you could give to God.

YELLOW LEVEL
GRADE LEVEL

Write the right letter under each coin. Finish four short sentences from a word bank, then say which person you would like to meet, and why.

RED LEVEL
GO DEEPER

Match the coins, then choose one person and write two or three sentences as if you were them. Invent the journey of a coin from hand to hand.

CLOSING PRAYER · 4 MINUTES

Ask the children to hold out their open hands. Pray together, a line at a time: "Jesus, the widow gave you everything in her hands. Here are my hands. Help me to give with a happy heart — my time, my kindness and my love. Amen."

MINI MUSEUM CONNECTION

Visit the exhibition: the Widow's Mite, the Shekel of Tyre and Herod's coin are all in the cases. Play Hands of History together: look at the hands and guess whose they are.

Virtual visit: the game, the coins and their stories are all online.

minimuseumproject.org/exhibitions/in-their-hands

FOR THE TEACHER

Telling the stories at this age

Bethlehem, gently. The exhibition sets the mother's story beside Herod's order in Matthew 2:16. For six- to eight-year-olds, tell only Matthew 2:13–15: the angel's warning and the Holy Family's safe journey to Egypt. If a child already knows that Herod was cruel, it is enough to say that he was a bad king and that God kept Jesus safe.

The priest's coin. The Shekel of Tyre is also the coin that, almost certainly, paid Judas (Matthew 26:15). That story belongs to older grades; here the priest is simply at work in God's house.

Real or copy? The widow's, the merchant's and the mother's coins are genuine. The shekel is a museum-quality replica, because original examples are exceptionally rare. Children like being told which is which.

The widow and the priest both stand at the Temple treasury in the exhibition's stories. Children may notice that the priest could have seen the widow give; let them imagine it, as long as they know it is imagining.

QUESTIONS FOR STORY TIME

- Look at each person's hands. What are they doing — giving, counting, holding, working?
- Which coin is the smallest? Why do you think the widow's tiny gift was the biggest to Jesus?
- Herod's coin has no face on it. Whose face is on our coins? Why did Herod leave the face off?
- If you could ask one of these people a question, what would you ask?

SHOW YOUR CLASS

Whose hands held this?

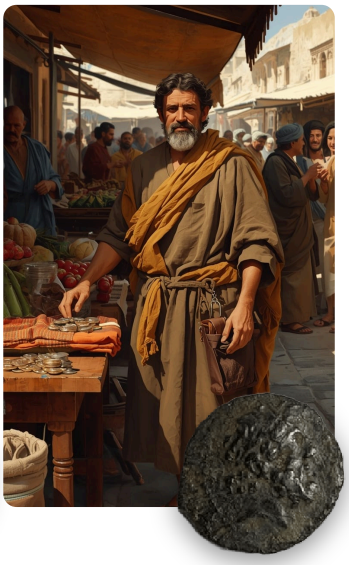

Project or print this page for story time and the corner game. Each coin sits beside the person who held it.

AT THE TEMPLE

The Widow

The Widow's Mite

IN THE MARKET

The Merchant

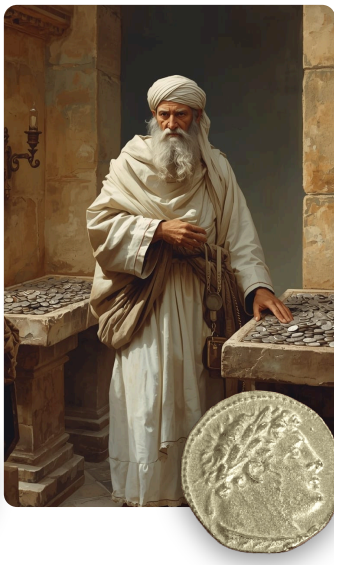

Coin of Augustus Caesar

AT HOME

The Mother in Bethlehem

Coin of King Herod

AT THE TEMPLE

The Temple Priest

Shekel of Tyre (replica)

01

The Widow · Mark 12:41–44

At the Temple, rich people put in large gifts. A poor widow came and put in two tiny coins — all she had. Jesus told his friends she had given more than all the others. Her coin, the lepton, was the smallest coin people used. The exhibition shows two, because the Gospel says two.

02

The Merchant · Luke 2:1

In a busy market, a merchant counts the day's coins. Many show the face of Augustus Caesar, the emperor in faraway Rome. Augustus ordered a census, a counting of all the people — and that is why Mary and Joseph traveled to Bethlehem, where Jesus was born.

03

The Mother in Bethlehem · Matthew 2:13–15

A mother uses small coins to buy bread and oil for her family. King Herod made these coins, and they have no face on them, because Jewish law did not allow it. When Jesus was born, an angel told Joseph in a dream to take Mary and the baby to Egypt, where they would be safe.

04

The Temple Priest

A priest works at the Temple, where people paid a Temple tax each year. The Temple accepted only one coin for it, the shekel of Tyre, because its silver was the purest. The priest held hundreds every day. Ours is a replica — a careful copy — because real ones are very rare.