LIBRARY ACTIVITY CARD

Harlem Renaissance Library

PreK–K · Challenge!

YELLOW LEVEL
GRADE LEVEL

ADMIT ONE

NAME _____ DATE _____ CLASS _____

Aaron Douglas painted people as shadow-shapes called silhouettes. He didn't paint faces because he wanted the figures to represent all Black people, not just one person. He used circles of light to show music and spirit.

01 PART 1

Look carefully

LOOK FOR IT ON THE LIBRARY DISPLAY

Aaron Douglas — Song of the Towers, 1934

I can see: _____

02 PART 2

Draw and tell

Draw your own silhouette picture with a circle of light behind the figure. Then write or tell: Who is your person and what are they doing?

SILHOUETTE + CIRCLE OF LIGHT

My person is _____

and they are _____

MINI MUSEUM Visit: minimuseumproject.org/exhibitions/harlem-renaissance