Aaron Douglas used silhouettes (shadow people) and circles of light in almost every painting. The circles show sound, spirit, and energy. He used only a few colors — each one for a feeling.

01 PART 1 Look at two paintings

LOOK FOR IT ON THE LIBRARY DISPLAY
Aaron Douglas — Song of the Towers, 1934

LOOK FOR IT ON THE LIBRARY DISPLAY
Aaron Douglas — The Creation, 1935

What is the same in both? What is different?

02 PART 2 Make your own story

Draw a silhouette picture that tells a story. Color the background to show how the story feels. On the back, write 2 sentences about your picture.
